Dear Sir,

We have read very much about you and your situation in the newspapers and feel that we should write and tell you that we sympathise with you. In our opinion it is absolutely wrong to prevent a man as intelligent as you from furthering his education and becoming a useful citizen; we just cannot see what nationality or colour, be it black or white, has got to do with the situation. We feel we must offer our apologies to you for all the wrong done to you by white people and wish you every success in your studies.

Yours faithfully,

Members of Form IV: Lynne Woolley.

Dear Miss Woolley:

Allow me to thank you and the undersigns
for your good wishes and interest.

The kind thoughts expressed in your letter of October 10, 1962 by all of you, will always be remembered.

Sincerely yours,
